

Reddit Posts Report (CSV Source) — India-specific Nature

Total Posts Processed: 20

Sentiment Analysis Summary

Anti-India: 7 posts (35.0%)
Neutral: 5 posts (25.0%)
Anti-Government: 5 posts (25.0%)
Pro-India: 3 posts (15.0%)

Topic Modeling Summary

Topic 0: 6 posts
Topic 1: 6 posts
Topic 2: 8 posts

Nature (India-specific) Summary

anti-india: 5 posts (25.0%)
neutral: 5 posts (25.0%)
call-to-action: 3 posts (15.0%)
anti-government: 3 posts (15.0%)
communal: 2 posts (10.0%)
pro-india: 2 posts (10.0%)

Flagged Potentially Dangerous Posts

Post (teaser)	Subreddit	Author	Sentiment	Nature	Topic	Date
Why I believe india won't progress anytime soon 16 Why I believe India won't progress and why women will remain unsafe Disclaimer. If you are a religious extremist, do not engage. This is not for you. India's condition is no longer hidden. From the surge in rape cases and the near absence of safety for women to air pollution so severe that international athletes have withdrawn from events, the problems are visible and global. Indians are among the most mocked communities worldwide, and racial crimes against Indians continue to rise. Yet instead of confronting the reasons, we keep deflecting. The uncomfortable truth is that India is deeply divided, and religion plays a major role in that division. This is not an attack on belief in God. The issue is religious obsession and intolerance. Many people are not extremists in practicing their faith but are extremists in hating other ...	AskIndianWomen	vexx1d	Anti-India	communal	0	2026-01-18 07:31

Post (teaser)	Subreddit	Author	Sentiment	Nature	Topic	Date
Best VPNs for Etsy 0 Your Etsy account just got flagged. Again. You weren't doing anything wrong—just logged in from a coffee shop while traveling. But Etsy's automated system saw an unusual IP address and hit the panic button. Now you're locked out, unable to fulfill orders or manage your shop. This exact scenario plays out thousands of times daily for Etsy sellers and buyers. The platform's aggressive fraud detection doesn't distinguish between actual threats and legitimate users protecting their privacy or accessing their accounts from different locations. Here's the reality: Etsy does detect VPNs, and using the wrong one can get your account suspended. But the right VPN? It lets you access Etsy securely from anywhere, protect sensitive payment data, and avoid geo-restrictions—without triggering those dreaded security flags. I've spent the past year testing 20+ VPNs ...	VPNforFreedom	ContentByrkRah	Anti-Government	anti-government	0	2026-01-18 06:23
Why Masaan is one of the most important Indian films of the last decade 2 Why Masaan is one of the most important Indian films of the last decade Masaan matters because it quietly rewired how Indian cinema talks about caste, gender, desire, grief, and modernity without spectacle, saviours, or sermonising. It did not shout revolution. It lived it. First, Masaan marks a generational shift in social realism. It inherits the moral seriousness of Parallel Cinema but rejects its distance. Earlier films often showed marginalised lives from above. Masaan places us inside them. Deepak is not a symbol of suffering. He is a young man with ambition, humour, desire, and rage. Devi is not a fallen woman asking for redemption. She is a person refusing shame. This movement from representation to subjectivity is what makes the film politically powerful. Second, the film dismantles the upper caste ...	SocialFilmMaker	Active-Course-155	Pro-India	pro-india	2	2026-01-18 01:47
Mehta cancels all his performances in Israel as a protest against Netanyahu's policies 77 As per the article: >Legendary conductor Zubin Mehta, who led the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra for nearly 50 years, says that he has canceled all his performances in Israel in protest of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's policies regarding the Palestinians. >"I cancelled all my engagements in Israel this year because of my objection to Mr Netanyahu's way of treating the whole Palestinian issue," Mehta says in an interview with India Today, adding that he hopes that Netanyahu will be voted out of office at the next elections. >The 89-year-old Indian maestro cancelled a number of performances in Israel at the end of last year, citing health issues. What are your thoughts? I don't like when politics and music get mixed, I remember when the invasion of Ukrain happened and I was at the first ...	classicalmusic	Ok-Prompt2360	Anti-Government	call-to-action	2	2026-01-18 00:24

Post (teaser)	Subreddit	Author	Sentiment	Nature	Topic	Date
Suggested Tweaks to India in Victoria 3 1 I want to start off by saying, I really enjoy the Victoria 3 content for India and I think Paradox has done its research with regards to how to make India content super unique. That being said, I have a few minor tweaks and some criticisms that I think can be worked upon to make India even more fun and accurate. I've broken down these criticisms into essentially 2 categories: Characters & Map. So moving alphabetically: 1. Characters : I really enjoy the sheer breadth of characters available to be recruited in India and, in general, I also appreciate how they are used and divided. Nevertheless, I do feel as though there are some key players missing that I would really have liked to see, due to their influence on India, as well as some characters whose ideologies I think could be improved. I will therefore divide this section into two parts: ...	victoria3	Which_Impression4262	Pro-India	call-to-action	2	2026-01-18 00:10

All Collected Posts

Date	Subreddit	Author	Score	Nature	Post (teaser)
2026-01-18 07:56	Northeastindia	Apprehensive_Art463	463	anti-india	Why did I Feel like an outsider in a place I consider home? 0 I'm Rajbongshi. I'm going to share my experience here. For those who don't know, Rajbongshis are an ethnic community with deep historical and cultural roots across North Bengal, Assam, and parts of the Northeast, Bhutan and Nepal as well. Our identity doesn't fit neatly into modern political or regional boxes. We've existed long before today's 'mainland vs Northeast' narratives, yet we're often erased by both. Growing up in coochbehar, west bengal, I've frequently been reduced to 'just another bengali' by many outsiders here. Many people have always assumed my language, culture, even my worldview without ever asking me, some people in Delhi NCR, when I went there last year, also have asked me after knowing my ethnicity, why I even live in North Bengal instead of Assam or even Bangladesh, as if identity must obey state ...
2026-01-18 07:31	AskIndianWomen	vexx1d	9	communal	Why I believe india won't progress anytime soon 16 Why I believe India won't progress and why women will remain unsafe Disclaimer. If you are a religious extremist, do not engage. This is not for you. India's condition is no longer hidden. From the surge in rape cases and the near absence of safety for women to air pollution so severe that international athletes have withdrawn from events, the problems are visible and global. Indians are among the most mocked communities worldwide, and racial crimes against Indians continue to rise. Yet instead of confronting the reasons, we keep deflecting. The uncomfortable truth is that India is deeply divided, and religion plays a major role in that division. This is not an attack on belief in God. The issue is religious obsession and intolerance. Many people are not extremists in practicing their faith but are extremists in hating other ...

Date	Subreddit	Author	Score	Nature	Post (teaser)
2026-01-18 07:23	selfhelp	Rajeshk1235	1	neutral	God helps those who are helpless: Understanding the difference between petty desires and Divine necessities 1 A devotee of Vishnu was walking along singing hymns. He was so engrossed in his singing that he didn't even realize that he had walked all over the clothes that were laid on the rocks by the washermen for drying. The washermen see him and start shouting. Vishnu was at home in his bedroom with his wife, he suddenly gets up, puts on his shirt and tells his wife, my devotee is in trouble and I must go and help him. He leaves but almost immediately comes back. His surprised wife asks him why he is back so soon and Vishnu tells her, the washermen ran after my devotee with bamboo sticks but my devotee also picked up a stone to fight back. God helps those who are truly in a helpless situation but what is helplessness is God's understanding and not our own. No amount of pleading with ...
2026-01-18 07:06	IndiaSpeaks	Competitive_Gene_	398	neutral	A report about India's strategic withdrawal from Iran's Chabahar port triggered a political slugfest between the Congress and the BJP. Experts suggest the Chabahar story is less about an exit and more about managing strategic ambition under Trump sanctions. 2 In the last few days, reports and opinions suggesting that India has been forced to "withdraw" from Iran's Chabahar port under US pressure have been doing rounds. This has triggered a political slugfest at home. A report in a leading financial newspaper on Thursday (January 15) noted that "India's decade-old, turbulent involvement in developing Iran's Chabahar port has collapsed after US President Donald Trump said on January 12 that any country doing business with the Persian Gulf nation will face a 25% tariff on any and all business being done with the USA." The Congress alleged that "Prime Minister Narendra Modi had ...
2026-01-18 06:52	AskIndia	No-Presence3209	0	anti-india	Why do Indians justify xenophobia and racism towards their culture from foreigners? 17 I swear this is a condition unique to indians - you will never see any other culture being so openly self-hating and willing to be spoken down to. Maybe liberal Americans and other anglos - but these are people in the most developed countries in the world so they're not being punched down at. With India its different - a foreigner asks "why are indians so ?" and you'll find many Indians looking right past the obvious ignorance and agreeing saying "yeah its people from " or "yeah its people who support " - like a desperate attempt to be seen as one of the "good ones". and then there's some people who genuinely think westerners are mocking us out of ...

Date	Subreddit	Author	Score	Nature	Post (teaser)
2026-01-18 06:46	Maharashtra	gosipoz	45	communal	My personal thinking ! 60 As Balasaheb Thackeray said we are first Marathis in Maharashtra and then Indians in India. I really feel we should prioritize our Marathi Asmita over any religion/nation. Gujjus play this religious politics but are very well connected with eachother they just do hindu/muslim for name sale. What I feel is on the name of hindutva marathi manus and maharashtra are being looted. Jai Maharashtra.
2026-01-18 06:23	VPNforFreedom	ContentByrkRahul	1	anti-government	Best VPNs for Etsy 0 Your Etsy account just got flagged. Again. You weren't doing anything wrong—just logged in from a coffee shop while traveling. But Etsy's automated system saw an unusual IP address and hit the panic button. Now you're locked out, unable to fulfill orders or manage your shop. This exact scenario plays out thousands of times daily for Etsy sellers and buyers. The platform's aggressive fraud detection doesn't distinguish between actual threats and legitimate users protecting their privacy or accessing their accounts from different locations. Here's the reality: Etsy does detect VPNs, and using the wrong one can get your account suspended. But the right VPN? It lets you access Etsy securely from anywhere, protect sensitive payment data, and avoid geo-restrictions—without triggering those dreaded security flags. I've spent the past year testing 20+ VPNs ...
2026-01-18 05:38	stupidquestions	ProfessionalSite7368	35	anti-india	Is China threatening the US hegemony absolute bullshit? 35 I passively see alot of news relating to geopolitics towards China's development as an economic hub. For instance, China is expanding trade routes through Pakistan, making significant investment in Asia, and more recently we see pressure against Taiwan's independence. To add, China is brought up as a contender in the supremacy to control the anticipated Arctic trade routes. I often see the blank statement that China has the largest middle-class population in the world. This gave me the impression and an implication that China as a whole is also becoming an intellectual powerhouse that rivals and threatens US hegemony... When it's not. I ran some numbers (by asking grok/hence why /stupidquestions). If we believe official national statistics publications from China, then we believe that the middle class earns $3000-$7500USD ...

Date	Subreddit	Author	Score	Nature	Post (teaser)
2026-01-18 05:34	unitedstatesofindia	Adventurous-Age-277	77	anti-india	India's economy stalled after 2010, the data just didn't say so - The Times of India 1 In a searing reassessment of India's post-2008 economic trajectory, economist and former Chief Economic Advisor to the Government of India Arvind Subramanian and political scientist Devesh Kapur argue in their new book that the country's much-touted growth resilience after 2010 was largely a statistical illusion. Beneath steady official GDP numbers lay a decade-long slowdown driven by collapsing investment, stalled credit and a prolonged twin balance-sheet crisis that policymakers and critics alike failed to diagnose in time.
2026-01-18 05:03	academiceconomics	Better_Ad9842	4	pro-india	Looking for Places to Find Predocs Outside of America 0 Hello everyone, I am about to graduate from university this May and I am looking to work as a predoc outside of the US, preferably. My countries of interest in no particular order: UK, Canada, Australia, NZ, Japan, Netherlands, France, Singapore, Malaysia, India, South Africa, and other former Britisher, French, and Dutch colonies. So some resources to find predocs or predoc-esque positions would be immensely helpful. I'm happy to work in any study but I'd prefer Political Economy, Macroeconomics, IO, Law & Economics, and Econometrics. Oh also, this isn't an ad per se but if you're looking for a predoc/research assistant please let me know, Id love to set up a coffee chat!
2026-01-18 05:01	OutCasteRebels	Ok-Increase-8359	19	neutral	India's Genz illusion 2 When dominant caste youth resist, it is Gen Z energy. But when marginalised youth does the same, it is "caste-card". Every few months, there's a new article celebrating Gen Z as bold, disruptive, politically aware, digitally fluent. But when you look closely, the faces, voices, and stories being amplified are strikingly familiar. I want to discuss why I think this entire buzz around Gen Z is nothing but a convenient name for upper caste entitlement in India. They are English-speaking, urban, upper caste, institutionally protected young people who already had access to the internet, good schools, global exposure, and the confidence to be heard without consequences. Often this socio-economic inherited safety gets termed as Gen Z "fearlessness". The freedom to quit jobs, speak up online, challenge authority, or be casually political comes from caste ...
2026-01-18 04:43	IndiaTodayLIVE	IndiaToday	1	anti-india	One tiny tattoo on Mia Goth has triggered massive political memes in India, dragging Akhilesh Yadav and the Samajwadi Party straight into Hollywood's spotlight in a bizarre internet meltdown. 0

Date	Subreddit	Author	Score	Nature	Post (teaser)
2026-01-18 03:03	IsraelPalestine	BizzareRep	28	neutral	Albert Einstein - a Zionist Activist 50 Albert Einstein the Zionist Albert Einstein was a Zionist. A German Jew who was ejected from Germany by the Nazis, Einstein viewed the founding of the state of Israel as a very good thing. He was a sort of a Zionist lobbyist. Indeed, Einstein lobbied for the creation of the state, as proposed in the UN General Assembly partition plan of 1947. The Arabs of course rejected the plan. Einstein passionately endorsed partition. In the months preceding the vote for partition, Einstein wrote a letter to India's prime minister, pleading for India to vote for partition. Einstein is often described as an "anti Zionist," but some of the things written by him to the Indian leader would be considered "far right" by today's leftists. In the letter, Einstein essentially says - there is no Palestinian people. They're part of an Arab nation. The Arabs have ...
2026-01-18 03:01	u_BizzareRep	BizzareRep	1	neutral	Albert Einstein the Zionist 0 Albert Einstein was a Zionist. A German Jew who was ejected from Germany by the Nazis, Einstein viewed the founding of the state of Israel as a very good thing. He was a sort of a Zionist lobbyist. Indeed, Einstein lobbied for the creation of the state, as proposed in the UN General Assembly partition plan of 1947. The Arabs of course rejected the plan. Einstein passionately endorsed partition. In the months preceding the vote for partition, Einstein wrote a letter to India's prime minister, pleading for India to vote for partition. Einstein is often described as an "anti Zionist," but some of the things written by him to the Indian leader would be considered "far right" by today's leftists. In the letter, Einstein essentially says - there is no Palestinian people. They're part of an Arab nation. The Arabs have many lands. The Jews just want a tiny ...
2026-01-18 02:31	indianrealestate	deepeshdeomurari	38	anti-government	2000+ 3BHK in Bengaluru under a crore is music to the ears, but wait!! 41 It was evident with crashing sales in Dec quarter, that price fall is almost guaranteed and its started. With 48K properties to sell in Bengaluru, clearly showing total dry period. In this case, people use to hurry because they are waiting for such discount and offers for years. But understand sales reached covid level, a total reversal. Price total reversal has not happened. Bengaluru may be worst effected due to prolonged tech recession. For any investment purchase should be made only after competition of fall, its just starting. Some says self occupancy should not be considered as investment, its foolishness to think so. Flat is making biggest chunk of life. So it need to be seen with investment and ROI. Tomorrow you want to sell everything and go to hometown, you should be able to do. If sales keep low for ...

Date	Subreddit	Author	Score	Nature	Post (teaser)
2026-01-18 02:26	China	Fuzzy-Assistant-70482	482	call-to-action	How do ordinary Chinese people view Maozedong■ 87 Today, I would like to share with you the true image of Chairman Mao in the hearts of ordinary people in mainland China. The answer is — he was a great leader. No matter how foreign media attempts to belittle and insult him, we will not change this view. I need to correct some of the stereotypes you have about Mao Zedong. 1. The Truth About the Famine Many people believe that under Mao's rule, China experienced a severe famine that resulted in the death of millions of people. This narrative has almost painted him as an evil “genocidal dictator,” even more malevolent than Hitler. However, this is not the whole truth. First, I do not deny that a serious famine did occur between 1959 and 1961, and that Mao made some incorrect judgments during that time. But the data surrounding the famine has been exaggerated and distorted, and it was not ...
2026-01-18 02:08	UPSC	tauji99	2	anti-government	NEED HELP 3 Hi everyone, I need some genuine advice. I'm a BTech student and I'd say I'm decent at science, maths, and logical thinking—but when it comes to general awareness, I feel really weak. Not the exam-type GK, but the kind where people can talk about what's happening in India or the world and have at least some opinion. I often blank out in conversations because: I don't fully understand the basic hierarchy of government (who decides what, who reports to whom) I don't keep up with current affairs or geopolitics I never really developed interest in history, politics, or economics earlier The problem is, I want to change this now. I want to be someone who: Understands issues at a big-picture level Can say “I may not know details, but here's how I see it” Feels confident joining discussions instead of staying silent Please kindly share your thoughts into this

Date	Subreddit	Author	Score	Nature	Post (teaser)
2026-01-18 01:47	SocialFilmMakers	Active-Course-155	33	pro-india	Why Masaan is one of the most important Indian films of the last decade 2 Why Masaan is one of the most important Indian films of the last decade Masaan matters because it quietly rewired how Indian cinema talks about caste, gender, desire, grief, and modernity without spectacle, saviours, or sermonising. It did not shout revolution. It lived it. First, Masaan marks a generational shift in social realism. It inherits the moral seriousness of Parallel Cinema but rejects its distance. Earlier films often showed marginalised lives from above. Masaan places us inside them. Deepak is not a symbol of suffering. He is a young man with ambition, humour, desire, and rage. Devi is not a fallen woman asking for redemption. She is a person refusing shame. This movement from representation to subjectivity is what makes the film politically powerful. Second, the film dismantles the upper caste ...
2026-01-18 00:24	classicalmusic	Ok-Prompt2360	333	call-to-action	Mehta cancels all his performances in Israel as a protest against Netanyahu's policies 77 As per the article: >Legendary conductor Zubin Mehta, who led the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra for nearly 50 years, says that he has canceled all his performances in Israel in protest of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's policies regarding the Palestinians. >"I cancelled all my engagements in Israel this year because of my objection to Mr Netanyahu's way of treating the whole Palestinian issue," Mehta says in an interview with India Today, adding that he hopes that Netanyahu will be voted out of office at the next elections. >The 89-year-old Indian maestro cancelled a number of performances in Israel at the end of last year, citing health issues. What are your thoughts? I don't like when politics and music get mixed, I remember when the invasion of Ukrain happened and I was at the first ...
2026-01-18 00:10	victoria3	Which_Impression4262	262	call-to-action	Suggested Tweaks to India in Victoria 3 1 I want to start off by saying, I really enjoy the Victoria 3 content for India and I think Paradox has done its research with regards to how to make India content super unique. That being said, I have a few minor tweaks and some criticisms that I think can be worked upon to make India even more fun and accurate. I've broken down these criticisms into essentially 2 categories: Characters & Map. So moving alphabetically: 1. Characters : I really enjoy the sheer breadth of characters available to be recruited in India and, in general, I also appreciate how they are used and divided. Nevertheless, I do feel as though there are some key players missing that I would really have liked to see, due to their influence on India, as well as some characters whose ideologies I think could be improved. I will therefore divide this section into two parts: ...